LETTER FROM THE DIRECTOR

Dear Friend,

We are pleased to invite you to support an exciting new chapter for one of the region's most anticipated literary celebrations. In 2026, the South Texas Book Festival becomes the South Texas International Book Festival (STIBF), a new name that reflects the festival's continued growth, expanding reach, and commitment to bringing readers, authors, cultures, and stories together. As a City of McAllen festival presented by McAllen Public Library, STIBF continues to serve as a signature celebration of literacy, learning, and community.

This year's theme, Pages to Possibilities, celebrates the opportunities that begin with a book. Through author appearances, family activities, literary programs, and cultural experiences, STIBF encourages a love of reading while connecting our community through books and storytelling.

The transition to the South Texas International Book Festival builds on more than a decade of success while looking toward the future. The festival has earned international recognition from the International Festivals & Events Association and continues to welcome voices and perspectives from South Texas and beyond.

As we begin this next chapter, we invite you to become a 2026 sponsor. Your support helps bring authors and programming to our community while keeping festival experiences accessible to families, students, educators, and readers of all ages. We welcome both monetary and in-kind contributions, with sponsorship opportunities available at a variety of levels.

Thank you for considering sponsorship of the 2026 South Texas International Book Festival. With your support, Pages to Possibilities can inspire readers, celebrate stories, and open new opportunities throughout South Texas and beyond.

Best Regards,

Kate P. Horan, MLS
